The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Mueller-Fiedler '142, of record.

Claim 1 is rejected as Mueller shows a substrate T2 or T3, a lens Li above the substrate, and a laser LD above the lens and substrate. Basically just picture the assembly of Mueller-Fiedler rotated 180 degrees or equivalently turned upside down in orientation. Claim 1 is broad and structurally undistinguishing over '142. Claim 2 is rejected as T2 and T3 can be glass or silicon transparent to the emitted light. Claim 3 is rejected as Mueller teaches a "lens can advantageously be a Fresnel lens, fitted in a planar manner", and also teaches "conductor tracks Lb to make contact with the laser diode LD and for further optical or optoelectronic components which are mounted in the upper side of the carrier T1". Claim 4 is obvious as glass is an ordinary planarization material in the art and used as T2. In regard to claim 5 note the electrical connections to the laser diode LD. Claim 6 is obvious as it would have been obvious to hermetically seal T2 to T1 with a sealing ring to keep out moisture or other contaminants. Claim 7 is rejected as the monitor diode is an active integrated circuit and any wiring to any of the devices in '142 can be considered resistors, inductors or capacitors of a "passive" integrated circuit. The claims are broad.

Claims 15 and 16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The applied art does not teach or fairly suggest “plugs” as bonding wires are practiced.

Applicant's arguments filed 12/12/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Arguments regarding “above” or “below” are unconvincing of patentability as shown above. T1, T2, or T3 are all substrates for the laser, lens, and interconnections. Applicant is too narrowly construing his claims where the claim language enables a broader interpretation.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
